A Brief Note

Sous Raccoon is made to be FUN. That's all a great game needs.

Sous Raccoon started in a small university in Thailand, with one developer and an absolute army of artists. The cute characterization came to life almost by accident, the gameplay loop starting clicking together naturally.

Classic cooking gameplay combined with typical time management and an unusual flourish of combat and character upgrades makes this a unique experience, and it's FUN.

Sincerely, ♡
Novice Flow & Rising Tide

Novice Flow

A lovable crew of mischievous raccoons themselves, Novice Flow is a local Thai studio of eight people with a humble sense of humor, a positive vision for the industry, and an undeniable sense of sous-esque style

Rising Tide

There's a Thai word we love: Jing Jai (จริงใจ), meaning sincerity or genuineness. We work with devs who have a peculiar and singular vision. Based in Thailand, bringing Southeast Asia's finest indie experiences to the world.

Thank You

Has it ever been a more crowded, creative, and confusing time in gaming? All we can do is say: thank you. For your attention, your interest, your inspiration, even your critiques. We're just grateful you're here checking out Sous Raccoon.

Sincerely,
